Shot Romped Home in an Easy Manner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—For a time at Oakland today it appeared as if the favorites would sweep the card, four being successful. The fifth race resulted in an upset, however, as Ripper, at 20 to 1, romped home in front of Flaneur, the favorite. In the closing event the talent was again disappointed, as Briers, the odds-on favorite, failed to display much speed and finished outside the money. The weather was fine, but the track was still somewhat heavy. Results:

First race, six and a half furlongs—Margate won, Daresome second, Miss May Bowditch third. Time, 1:24.
Second race, five and a half furlongs—Squire Johnson won, Phalanx second, A. Muskaday third. Time, 1:30.

High Schools
Battle TodayEast and West Side Aggregations
Meet at Walker's Field This Morning.

Twenty-two husky youths representing the East and West Side high schools will clash this morning at 10 o'clock at Walker's field to settle the city championship. Neither team has met defeat thus far in the race for the high school championship and the greatest interest is centered in the contest today.

This is the first time in history that a team from the East Side high school ever played the West Side aggregation. The former is a much younger institution and not until this year did the school have a team to represent them in the championship race. However, the East Siders have much confidence in the ability of their team this year and hope to trim their rivals.

The West Side aggregation has made an enviable record for itself this year, defeating All Hallows college on two different occasions, trimming the Ogden high school and holding the heavy Aggies to small scores. According to past performances the West Siders should win this morning.

Clashing to the big game at Cummings field this afternoon between the University and Aggie elevens, the high school contest will be played at Walker's field in the forenoon. The students of both schools held football rallies yesterday and the indications are that they will be out there to cheer their favorites.

AGGIE-VARSITY
CONTEST TODAYState Championship Is at Stake.Both Teams Trained to the Minute and Confident of Victory.Throng of Aggie Rooters Will Come Down This Morning to See the Game.

Football eyes in Utah today are directed to Cummings' field, where this afternoon the Agricultural college and the University of Utah gridiron heroes will battle for the State championship. It is the big game of the year, and upon its outcome rests the question of football supremacy in Utah. Both teams are prepared to make the fight of their lives, and, no matter who wins, the struggle doubtless will be one of the fiercest ever witnessed on a local gridiron.

Aggies Looking Well.
The Aggies are now the State champions. It is up to them to defend the title, and, according to authentic advices from the northern city, they will enter the contest this afternoon well prepared to do so. Coach Campbell has been working overtime to put his men in the best possible shape, and, according to all the "dope" that can be secured, the Aggies were never in better trim than they are today. They expect to catch the "U" if it lies in their power to down the "U" eleven, they can be depended upon to do it.

"U" Team in Good Shape.
The members of the University team are in grand shape for the struggle, and they are confident of victory. "We do not put much stock in the tales that have come today from the northern city about the Aggies' weakness," said one of them yesterday, "and we are not overconfident. We expect a tough game, but we believe we will be able to trim them."

Arrived Yesterday Morning.
The Aggies arrived in Salt Lake yesterday morning and spent the day in resting up. They did no practice work whatever, and will do none before lining up for the struggle on Cummings' field this afternoon. Between 400 and 500 Aggie rooters will come down from Logan this morning on the special train. They have a special section of bleachers reserved for them, and, with the assistance of a brass band, will endeavor to make their presence felt at the game this afternoon. The "U" enthusiasts have a section of seats reserved for themselves, and, with the assistance of another brass band, they, too, will raise a disturbance. The keenest rivalry prevails, though the students and faculty of both institutions insist that there is no hard feeling.

Very Little Betting.
Very few bets have been made on the outcome of the contest. There seems to be considerable money back of each aggregation, but little has been placed, owing to the fact that the odds are so close.

ing to the fact that the enthusiasts cannot agree on a price. The "U" rooters are willing to wager even money, but the Logan sports are holding out for odds, despite the fact that their eleven was victorious last year.

Varsity the Favorite.
"Dopesters" figure that the "U" eleven should be a slight favorite. The local rooters pin their hopes on "Hurry-Up Joe" Maddock's ability to bounce to skit the "U" eleven. The Aggies have had little opportunity of watching their team work, but judging from their work against Montana and the soldiers, the football fans expect to see them win today.

How They Will Play.
The Aggies probably will depend upon straight line-plunges for their gains. The Logan forwards are very heavy and the northerners feel that they will be able to tear holes in the "U" line through which the backs can make good gains. It is possible that Campbell may attempt to run the Varsity ends, but this course probably would result disastrously, as the Logan men have not shown enough speed to give them any chance to skit the Varsity extremes. The Aggies probably will hurt their concentrated weight against the opposing guards and tackles in hope of battering openings in the line. Their play no doubt will be slower and more massed than that of the locals.

Maddock has guarded jealously the secrets by which he expects to down the visitors this afternoon. From the work of the "U" eleven in past games, it would seem that will depend largely upon end-runs to make his gains. However, he may do just what he is not expected to do and direct his attack at Logan's heavy line.

Game Called at 2:30.
The contest will begin at 2:30 p. m., a little earlier than usual, in order to allow the visitors to catch an early train for the north. The officials have not yet been decided upon.
